

The route then proceeds to Chester, and afterwards to London and the Coast of Kent.

ITER V. From Londinium (London) to Luguwallium (Carlisle).

This route leads through Cambridge to Lincoln, where we begin our extract.

|                               | Mill. pass. |                             |                    |
|-------------------------------|-------------|-----------------------------|--------------------|
| From Lindum to Segelocum..... | 14          | Littleborough on the Trent. |                    |
| to Danum .....                | 21          | Doncaster                   | } in Yorkshire.    |
| to Legeolium.....             | 16          | Castleford                  |                    |
| to Eburacum .....             | 21          | York                        |                    |
| to Isu Brigantum              | 17          | Aldbrough                   |                    |
| to Catarractonium             | 24          | Catterick                   |                    |
| to Lavatræ.....               | 18          | Bowes                       | } in Westmoreland. |
| to Verteræ.....               | 14          | Brough                      |                    |
| to Brocavum.....              | 20          | Brougham                    |                    |
| to Luguwallium...             | 22          | Carlisle.                   |                    |

Here Isurium is called Isu Brigantum.

ITER VIII. From Eburacum to Londinium.

|                           | Mill. pass. |                |                 |
|---------------------------|-------------|----------------|-----------------|
| From Eburacum to Lagecium | 21          | Castleford     | } in Yorkshire. |
| to Danum...               | 16          | Doncaster      |                 |
| to Agelocum               | 21          | Littleborough. |                 |
| to Lindum ..              | 14          | Lincoln.       |                 |

Here Lagecium is substituted for Legeolium, and Agelocum for Segelocum.

The tenth Iter, the most perplexing of all, will conclude our extract—possibly no part of it lay within the limits of Yorkshire, except where it crossed Bolland Forest.

ITER X. From Clanoventa to Mediolanum.

|                                 | Mill. pass. |               |                         |
|---------------------------------|-------------|---------------|-------------------------|
| From Clanoventa to Galava ..... | 18          |               | } In the Lake District? |
| to Alone .....                  | 12          |               |                         |
| to Gallacum .....               | 19          |               |                         |
| to Bremetonacæ ..               | 27          | (Overburrow?) |                         |
| to Coccium .....                | 20          | (Ribchester?) |                         |
| to Mancunium ...                | 18          |               |                         |