

CONTENTS.

xv

	Page
The battle of Cattracth.—Rivalry between Danish Northumbria and Saxon Wessex.....	252, 253
Lost sites of famous battles:—as Maserfeld, Winwidfield, Brunanburgh.—Stamford Brig.—The Norman conquest .....	254
Monuments of the Anglo-Saxons .....	255
Tumuli—as at Driffield .....	256
Pottery, distinguished from British and Roman.—Combs .....	257
Language—characteristic terminations of words—‘ton’—‘ham’—‘ley’—‘ing’—‘field’—‘by’—the prefix or suffix ‘Kirk’....	257-260
Races of Men in Yorkshire,—immigrants, Saxons, Anglians, Danes, and Northmen.—The remains of Roman soldiery and colonists.—Original varieties of British race .....	260
Actual aspect of Man in Yorkshire .....	261
Vocabulary of East Yorkshire .....	262

APPENDIX.

Heights of Mountains in Yorkshire .....	265-274
Formation of Stalagmite .....	275
Quality of Water.....	275
The Nymph Elauna .....	276
The Circle of Stones .....	277
The Milliard Stone.....	277
Brimham Rocks .....	278
Roman Villas at York .....	278
Waterspout of Starbottom.....	279
St. Helen’s Ford.....	279
The River Went .....	279
Ravenser .....	279
Waste of the Coast.....	281
Distances to the nearest descents in the Cliff .....	282
Temperature of Whitby .....	285
Temperature of the Interior of York Minster .....	285
Temperature of York .....	288
Temperature of the Sea.....	288
Temperature of Scarborough.....	289
Rain.....	291
Velocity of the Wind .....	291
Site of Delgovitia .....	292
The Battle of Cattracth.....	292
Explanation of Plates.....	293
Topographical Index .....	303
Index of Personal Names .....	313