

is God. And in pursuing such a plan, much of necessity must have been omitted. I ought perhaps to have told you,

Fig. 77.

ASAPHUS CAUDATUS.
(Silurian.)

Fig. 78.

ORTHO CERAS LATERALE.
(Mountain Limestone.)

Fig. 79.

SPIRIGERINA RETICULARIS.
(Old Red Sandstone.)

that very rarely, if ever, do the master-forms of a period constitute the prevailing or typical organisms of its deposits.

Fig. 80.

A. MARGARITATUS.
(Lias.)

Fig. 81.

A. BISULCATUS.
(Lias.)

Fig. 82.

BELEMNITELLA MUCRONATA.
(Chalk.)

Fig. 83.

BELEMNITES SULCATUS.
(Oolite.)