

and hence has been dubbed by the voyageurs "the Sail Rock" (Fig. 33).

A mile farther east we reach "The Grand Portal" (Fig. 34). This is an enormous arched gateway one hundred feet in height and one hundred and sixty feet broad, opening into a magnificent vaulted passage some three hundred feet deep, and expanding into a massive dome. These apartments, with their ramifications, have been hewn in an enormous quadrangular block of brown sandstone projecting sheer into the lake six hundred feet, and presenting a front of three or four hundred feet, with a frowning façade lifted full one hundred and thirty-three feet above the
