

to have shorter beaks; but proportionally with the size of the body,

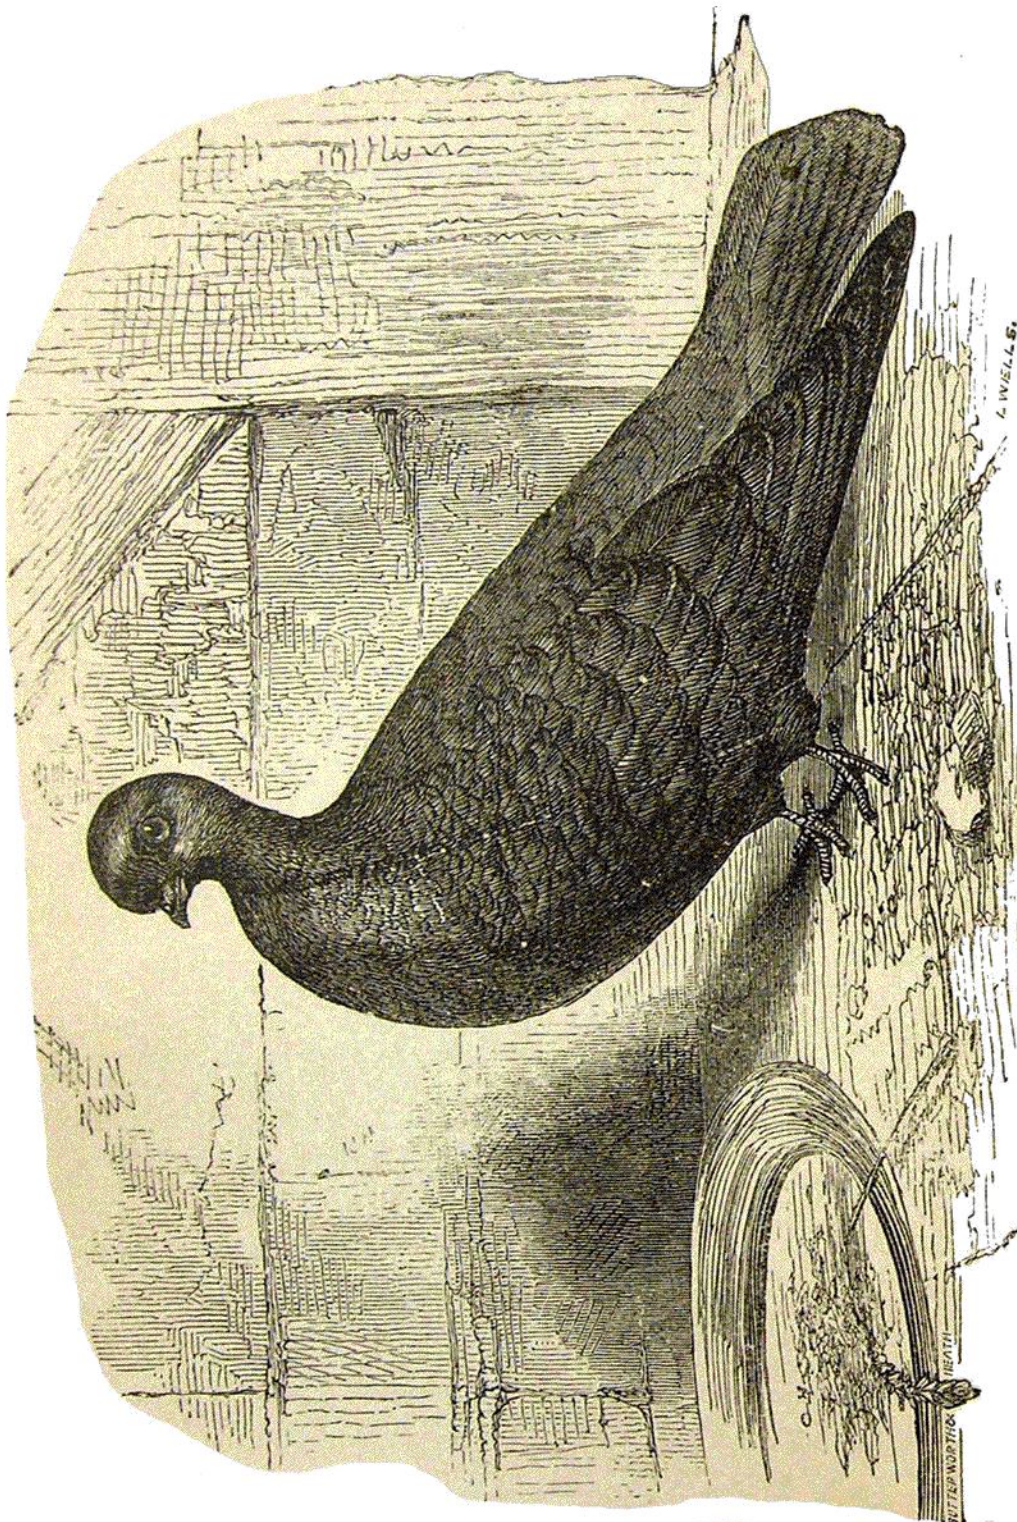

Fig. 23.—Short-faced English Tumbler.

the beak is $\cdot 28$ of an inch too short. So, again, the feet of this bird