

	PAGE
Fig. 44.—An Teallach, Durdonald, Ross-shire	206
Fig. 45.—Outline of Shiehallien	207
Fig. 46.—Buchaille-Etive (the Herdsman of Etive), from the east	212
Fig. 47.—View of a portion of the basalt plateau, Isle of Eigg .	217
Fig. 48.—View of the south side of Staffa	219
Fig. 49.—Section showing the structure of the basins of the Lakes of the Plains	227
Fig. 50.—Section showing the structure of a Moraine Lake .	228
Fig. 51.—Section showing the structure of a Rock-Tarn .	229
Fig. 52.—Part of the Island of Lewis	239
Fig. 53.—Section across Loch Morar	240
Fig. 54.—Ice-worn rocks, Rispond, Sutherland	243
Fig. 55.—Ice-worn rocks near summit of Barone Hill, Bute .	247
Fig. 56.—Ice-worn Knolls and Perched Blocks, Loch Torridon	258
Fig. 57.—Perched Blocks on ice-worn hummocks of gneiss be- tween Loch Laxford and Richonich, Sutherland .	259
Fig. 58.—View from the lower end of Loch Treig looking across Glen Spean	264
Fig. 59.—View of the Parallel Roads of Glen Roy from the Gap	266
Fig. 60.—Terraces at Auchnasheen	269
Fig. 61.—Moraines, Glen Cloy, Arran	275
Fig. 62.—Ice-worn islets in Loch Fyne	277
Fig. 63.—Curved Silurian Strata, coast of Berwickshire .	283
Fig. 64.—Curved and Cleaved Silurian Rocks, Wigtownshire .	284
Fig. 65.—Section across the Sanquhar Coal-field	285
Fig. 66.—The Manor Water, seen from the top of Cademuir, south of Peebles	290
Fig. 67.—Outline of the Southern Uplands, seen from above the Village of Barr in Southern Ayrshire	292
Fig. 68.—Tertiary dyke crossing the Glengap Burn, near Moffat	310
Fig. 69.—The Baron's Stone of Killochan	315
Fig. 70.—Sectional view of Loch Skene, Dumfriesshire .	317
Fig. 71.—Loch Skene, Dumfriesshire	319
Fig. 72.—Map of Tertiary Dykes near Muirkirk, Ayrshire .	331
Fig. 73.—Dykes traversing jointed volcanic tuff, Shore, Elie, Fife	332
Fig. 74.—Largo Law, Fife	334
Fig. 75.—Section across the Clackmannan Coal-field	335