

sketch-map of Franz Josef Land, as our observations led me to conclude that it must actually be. Mr. Jackson very kindly allowed me to consult the map he had made of that part of the land which he had explored. This enabled me to dispense with the labor of reckoning

A VISITOR

(Instantaneous Photograph)

out my own observations in these localities. Furthermore, I have to thank Mr. Jackson for aid in every possible way, with navigation-tables, nautical almanac,* scales, and all sorts of drawing material.

* We had not any nautical almanac for 1896, and had hitherto used the almanac for the previous year.