

from those of Brora and of the English Purbeck strata. In Mull, Lias and Oolites occur, ranging from the Lower Lias to the Upper Oolitic series, overlaid by Lower Cretaceous strata. They are traversed by many dykes and intrusive sheets of basalt, formerly considered as of Oolitic age, but now, as described by Professor Geikie, of Miocene date.