

Fig. 21.—Ben Shieldag, Loch Torridon—a hill of flat Cambrian red sandstone resting upon an uneven hummocky surface of the old gneiss.