

secure station the Alpine chamois looks down upon its pursuers, and defies their farther efforts at capture or molestation.

218

The astonishing feats of agility practised by this animal, and by which the most experienced hunters are perpetually baffled.